SUNDAY MORNING SERMON SERIES: CALLED TO BELONG TO JESUS

Paul's letter to the Romans has been called "an open door to all the most profound treasures of Scripture." In Romans, Paul gives a sweeping and deeply personal explanation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, inviting us to believe and be transformed by it. From the crushing weight of sin to the freedom of life in the Spirit, Paul speaks honestly about the human condition while pointing us to the redeeming work of Christ. As we journey through Romans, we come to see ourselves more clearly, understand God's grace more deeply, and discover what it means to live as people who are called to belong to Jesus.

BEING HUMAN IN THE DIGITAL AGE : A STUDY OF GENESIS 1

Sundays, Sept. 20-Nov. 22 | 10:10-10:50am | Trinity Hall

How does the opening of Genesis speak to life in an age of smartphones, artificial intelligence, social media, and constant connectivity? In this three-part course, John Yates and Jack Carson explore Genesis 1-3 to discover God's design for humanity and how it shapes the way we live in a rapidly changing world.

Beginning in Genesis 1, this course considers what it means to be created in God's image, why God designed us with rhythms and limits, and how the story of creation and the fall offers wisdom for navigating the opportunities and challenges of the digital age. Whether you're wrestling with distraction, anxiety, technology's influence, or simply seeking a deeper understanding of Scripture, this course will help you live more faithfully in today's world.

Between the services on these Sundays the Young Children's Wing will stay open, and we will offer special programming for K-5th graders where they will study the opening chapters of Genesis as well. Teens (6th-12th graders) are invited to join the class in Trinity Hall.

Registration is not required. Recordings of each session are available on the Talks and Podcast page on our website. Scan the QR code to access the recordings.

SHARING LIFE WOMEN'S EVENT: WISDOM ACROSS GENERATIONS

Tuesday, Nov. 3 | 7-8:30pm | Trinity Hall

We're often quick to turn to a book, podcast, or article for wisdom about raising and discipling our children, but sometimes the best resource is the woman sitting just a few rows behind us at church.

Join us for Sharing Life, an evening designed to encourage meaningful, intergenerational relationships among women at Holy Trinity. Together, we'll hear from women who have walked through different seasons of parenting and family life, gaining wisdom and encouragement for keeping an eternal perspective amid the chaos, the mundane, and the challenges of raising children into adulthood.

Our evening will feature a panel discussion with Corey Grabar and Alysia Yates, who will share from their own experiences and offer wisdom on faithfully stewarding young hearts.

After the panel, we'll break into small, intergenerational groups to discuss a few guided questions and create space to learn from and encourage one another. There's wisdom to be shared—and friendships to be built—across generations. Scan the QR code to sign up!
